The following is from Bradstreet's, New York, september 20th : That something besides a strong statistical posttion is necessary to continued strength in the wagar market is proved by the nourse of prices this week at N. Y. Haws are off see, and folly the same decline is shown in refined sorts. The volume of business done this week, in the argregate, was below that of last week's. Some of the blame for the weakness manifested is built to the door of the stringent money market.

The course personal by refluers, heretefore and

The course personed by refluers, horstofare and at present, is to reduce their stocks in preference to going into the market.

The slock in all countries:

The slock in all countries is 644,085 tons, against 671,894 tons lest work, and 890,998 tons the same week last year. At london, this work, a marked decline took place in values in nearly all lines, and no doubt some of the weakness developed here was a reflection of this usualisfactors tone.

Late closing prices at New York are revised as follows, with comparisons: Fair refining, Sept 22, 1887, 49c. Sept 15, 187, 49c. Sept 23, 1886, 49c. Contributions, 187, 49c. Sept 25, 55c. Standard A. #### A Bad Sugar Spec-

Judge Wilson yesterday granted defer dant's motion for a nonsuit in the case of H-Liebes against M. S. Greenebaum. The action was brought to recover $10,000, which the plaintiff advanced on a sugar crop on the Island of Hawnii, on which there was al-ready a mortgage of $30,000. The plaintiff claimed that Greenebaum represented himself as an expert on sugar crops, and said that the one on which the money was loaned would bring $100,000 when cut, and that it was upon this representation that he loaned the money. The crop afterwards failed and plaintiff lost his money. Greenebaum denied the statement in his answer and stated that if he did make such a statement it would not make him responsible

Judge Wilson looked at it in the same light and granted the nonsuit .- S. F. Examiner.

Gazette's Kohala Letter.

ED. GAZETTE: Kobala plantation has just put in a large set of rollers, and the works will soon be in first rate order to do better work than was even done there before. Next season ought to bring them 125 per cent. of sugar out of the juice, sure; and if they will only follow that with Young's automatic cleaner and a few more 25 per cent, improve-ments, there will have to be some soil imported from somewhere to fill up the holes

Spreckels won't stand any show at all with his beets, and he'll have to sell out his 25 tons of seed and invest in the carrying trade, sugar one way and soil the other. Excelsion is a good motto. Now, hold your breaths, and we'll have out our invention for turning the trash into sugar in a jiffy. There will be 200 per cent. saved, and that would necessitate the return to the use of coal, were it not for the to be invented patent furnace, which contemplates the mere turning on of the draft and throwing in a lighted match for a start

Mistaken Identity.

It appears that the police had been looking for one of the crew of the Juniata for two or three days. Monday week Paul Wull, steerage cook of the Vandalia, was met by a policeman who, finding one or two "points" about Wull corresponding to the description of the Juniata man, arrested him and brought him to the Station. The pris-oner demonstrated to the officials at the Station pretty clearly that they had got hold of the wrong man, and protested as best he could against his arrest, demanding as a matter of simple justice that the Vandalia be communicated with, but his appeals were in vain. He was forthwith sentenced to the cell, but a seaman of the Vandalia being in one of the cells for "breaking his liberty." was referred to, and the latter identified the arrested cook as a Vandalia hand, whereupon the latter was told that he "might go." and he did, but made his way to this o in a highly indignant state of mind at what he thought was a piece of bungling as well as great injustice on the part of the police. The trouble really seems to be that cook Wull happened to answer in some respects to the description of the party wanted, as the Hono-lulu police are generally not an ill-disposed set of men, but rather the reverse.

Mr. Young said this roller belonged to the kind of sugar mill in use on these Islands about thirty years ago. The rollers stood perpendicular. He recommended Mr. Cooke to send to Koloa, where it came from, for the counterpart of this roller, so as to have the pair mounted as a curiosity.

The Kaimilea

Monday last week, a Gazerre reporter dropped on the deck of the Hawatian navy, the Kaimiloa. The decks had been washed and everything was in excellent trim. Their Excellencies the Minister of Foreign Affairs and the Minister of Interior, accompanied by Mr. Frank Brown, were being conducted by Captain Jackson through the different parts of the vessel. On completing their rounds of inspection, the vessel was delivered by Captain Jackson to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, who thereupon turned it over as a piece of Government property to the Minster of Interior.

The party then adjourned to the cabin, where the officers, Francis Hilbus, Acting Lieutenant Commander, John Calway, Carpenter, Thomas Adelard, Boatswain, and Edward Hook, Mechanic, were called in, when the Minister of the Interior informed them of the situation, that the ship was out of commission and that the officers' discharges were all ready, which they could have if they desired them. The officers objected on the ground that the vessel had been commissioned and they had signed articles for two years. The Minister ex-plained to them, in reply, that he had no desire to inflict any wrong upon them, and if they felt that they had claims upon the Government beyond the period for which they had been paid, up to the 30th of September. that they ought to present them in a regular way for adjustment. He had no intention or desire to repudiate any just claims on the Government. After some further conversation the party retired.

Lahaina Letter

En. Gazate: You will be surprised to hear of the recellions outbreak at Labatnalona, which occurred on the 1st of October. Twenty-five boys deserted the school. It was clearly a conspiracy, headed by Weiner Kalai and three other secondary leaders, to overthrow the institution. Kalai deserted the school a few days previous to the outbreak, on account of some petty grievance. The other three, Kaoni, Moses Enapuas, and one other who has since repented and made such amends as was in his power, were mem-bers of the senior class. To such a state of rebellion had the pupils been worked up by the scoundrel Kabri and his three essociates that on the night of the 1st they were utterly beyond control. The Helepsi or duning hall was broken into, food was removed thence to | Honoinin, Sept 20, 1881.

the dormitories, and other lawless depreda-tions committed. At the same time prepara-tions were made by them to depart at once. Decisive and severe measures were of necessity resorted to to subdue the outbreak. The three available leaders were sternly dismissed from the justitution, under penalty of arrest if they were seen after fifteen minutes on the premises. But, unfortunately, in the case of two, subsequently all three were received back, as the two spoken of soon after "vamosed" with the rest. The origin of events, as here briefly stated, is to be found in the change of last September; a state of dissatisfaction has existed among the pupils. But still, it was thought, had it not been for Wajnee Kalai, the feeling of dissatisfaction would very likely have died out. Secretly holding meetings amongst the boys, he has spared no effort to accomplish his mischievous designs. It is said several of the twentytive boys who deserted should have been ar-rested, as they were under age, and in some cases placed under the express charge of the teachers. If so, Mr. Evans is at fault. Thirty boys now answer at roll call at Lahainaluna, against fifty-eight of last week. The three not accounted for, it is doubtful of. So Lahainaluna has been "running down hill" in the Hitchcock period. It must be racing down now.

Lahaina.

Nothing should be be left undone by the authorities to bring the offenders to a strict accounting with justice, so as to make a salutary example of such juvenile insubordination, that, it appears, has been manifested much too often in schools of the Kingdom.
